Voices of 50+ America Dreams & Challenges

Executive Summary

AARP has a strong commitment to help improve the lives of the 50+ population. As part of the Association's continuous communication with its members and all 50+ Americans, AARP commissioned an innovative set of surveys designed to better gather information on the needs, interests and concerns of 50+ Americans both at the national and state level.

These random digit dial telephone surveys of over 29,000 adults age 50+ across the 50 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands were fielded between January 2nd and January 31st. These telephone interviews also included additional list-assisted samples of African-American and Hispanic 50+ adults.

The data presented here is based on a national sample of 1,000 50+ adults and has a sampling error of 3.0%.

Executive Summary

The survey finds that:

- Four in ten adults 50+ say that health care issues are the top problem or challenge facing mid-life and older adults in their state. Over a third cite economic issues as the largest challenge.
- At a more personal level, adults 50+ say vacation and travel and hobbies are what they personally dream about doing next in their lives.
- Health and financial issues are very important in the lives of adults 50+. More than nine in ten say staying healthy, staying mentally sharp, and having adequate health insurance are extremely or very important to them.
- Adults 50+ do not have everything they need in order to accomplish their most important goals: Only a third say they have all they need to stay sharp, stay healthy, and have adequate health insurance.

Executive Summary

- About 80 percent of adults 50+ worry about one or more financial issues. Public assistance benefits and maintaining finances and lifestyle in retirement are worries for two-thirds.
- Over 80 percent of adults 50+ worry about one or more consumer protection issues. At least two-thirds express concern about protecting themselves against consumer fraud and unfair and deceptive business practices.
- About 65 percent of adults 50+ worry about one or more community issues. About four in ten worry about having easily accessible sidewalks and good street lighting needed to safely get around their communities.
- Staying in their own homes as they age is important to adults 50+. Nearly all say it is important to have long-term care services that allow people to remain in their own homes. Additionally, four in five support shifting funds used for nursing home care to home and community-based care.
- In the current economy, adults 50+ believe it is important to protect health and long-term care services from budget cuts. Nearly all believe it is important to protect home care services that allow people to stay in their own home.

Dreams for the 50+

Top Dreams (n=1000)
