

Long-Term Care in Oregon

The number of Oregon residents age 85 and older is projected to grow by 66 percent by 2030.

Oregon's older population can be at greater risk for chronic illnesses and in need of long-term care. Thirteen percent of Oregon's population is age 65+ with over 76,000 residents age 85+.<sup>1</sup> Oregon's age 85+ population – the age group that is most likely to need long-term care services – will grow 66% from 2007 to 2030.<sup>2</sup> This ranks Oregon in the middle (27th) in the nation in the projected growth rate of the 85+ population.

Most prefer to receive long-term care at home; however, Oregon spends nearly half of the state's Medicaid funds on institutional care.

The majority of Americans age 50+ (89%) want to stay in their homes for as long as they can.<sup>3</sup> Nearly 530,000 Oregonians rely on Medicaid, and 10% are age 65+.<sup>4</sup> Home and community-based service (HCBS) waivers allow Medicaid recipients to receive Medicaid funding for in-home care. In Oregon, Medicaid allows some to choose in-home care instead of nursing home care. In 2006, 27,095 Oregonians 65+ with disabilities received a waiver.<sup>5</sup> There were no people 65+ with disabilities who waited to receive a waiver in 2008.<sup>6</sup> On average, the Medicaid program can provide HCBS to three people for the cost of serving one person in a nursing home.<sup>7</sup>

Oregon spends 56% of its Medicaid long-term care dollars for older people and adults with physical disabilities on home and community-based care – ranking it 2nd in spending on home care services for this population.<sup>8</sup>

In addition, 410,000 Oregonians are providing family caregiving to a loved one at home. This care is valued at $4.8 billion.<sup>9</sup>

Oregon's average nursing home private pay rate in 2008 was $207 per day.

In 2007, Oregon's nursing homes had an occupancy rate of 65%.<sup>10</sup> This care is expensive. In 2008, the average nursing home private pay rate was over $200 a day.<sup>11</sup> Oregon's rate for home health aides ($20/hr private pay) was close to the national average, but had higher rates for Medicare-certified aides ($46/hr) and for adult day care ($83/day).<sup>12</sup>

Over a third of Oregon's nursing homes rated above average in health inspections.

The Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) created a five-star quality rating to help consumers compare nursing homes. CMS rates nursing homes on health inspections, staffing, and quality measures.

The health inspection process is comprehensive and conducted by a trained team of objective surveyors.<sup>13</sup>

Recent studies have found that non-profit nursing homes generally deliver higher quality of care.<sup>14</sup> In 2007, 80% of Oregon's nursing homes were for profit (16%, non-profit; 4%, government-owned).<sup>15</sup>

Few Americans have long-term care insurance.

Nationally, about 7 million long-term care insurance policies were in effect in 2005, and the typical purchaser was age 61 with assets over $100,000.<sup>16</sup> Cost is a major factor in the decision to purchase long-term care insurance. In 2008, premiums for a married couple in their sixties were about $3,000 a year.<sup>17</sup> Oregon has adopted the most recent long-term care insurance recommendations from the National Association of Insurance Commissioners (NAIC).<sup>18</sup>
